THE STATE CAPITOL OF CALIFORNIA

By CHARLES F. CURRY, Secretary of State.
(Ex-officio Member of State Capitol Commission)

It is the aim of almost every State to have a beautiful capitol building. Millions have been expended for structures that are a lasting monument to the artistic sense of the designers. For beauty of finish, solidity of construction and magnificent surroundings California's capitol building at Sacramento is remarked by all who have visited it as one of the handsomest in the entire Union. During 1906-07-08 the building was remodeled. The work was done under the supervision of the State Capitol Commission, and the result was a lasting testimonial to the taste, judgment and honesty of the Commissioners. Hon. Charles F. Curry, Secretary of State since 1899, was a member of the commission, and in that capacity during the terms of both Governor Pardee and Governor Gillett, had more to do with the work of reconstruction than any other State official. For the benefit of those people of the Golden State who have not seen the building, and for those who have expressed a wish to know its details, Secretary Curry has written the following full history and description of the capitol whose final completion, at such small cost in view of the results obtained, is largely due to his efforts.)

THE California State Capitol, located in the midst of a tree-shaded park of about 33 acres, extending from L to N streets from north to south and from Tenth to Fifteenth streets from west to east, surrounded by broad walks and carriage drives, and approached from the four sides by stretches of green sward surrounded by two grass covered terraces, is one of the most beautiful, best constructed, substantial and commodious capitol buildings in the United States. Work was commenced on the foundation September 24, 1860. The corner stone was laid with imposing Masonic ceremonies on May 15, 1861, and the building was completed according to the original plans as amended, which left the attic and basement unfinished, in the year 1874. The building was first occupied by the Governor and other state officers November 26, 1869. The Supreme Court met in the building for the first time December 3, 1869, and the Legislature took formal possession of the building on December 6, 1869. The occasion was observed by the firing of a salute and a general display of flags in Sacramento. The cost of construction was $2,600,000. During the years 1906-07-08, under the administrations of Governors Geo. C. Pardee and J. N. Gillett, the State Capitol Commission, composed of the Governor, the Secretary of State and the State Treasurer, expended the sum of $272,925 in completing the attic and basement; remodeling parts of the interior; installing new engine room machinery and steam heating plant; re-found inadequate." This exquisite piece of statuary in Carrara marble, was executed by Larkin Goldsmith Meade, an American sculptor, in Florence, Italy, between the years 1868 and 1874. Meade was born in New Hampshire, in 1835, and early exhibited artistic talent which attracted the attention of Nicholas Longworth, of Cincinnati, the father of the present Congressman of that name from an Ohio district. Mr. Longworth provided for Meade's artistic education, and he became one of America's greatest sculptors. Mr. D. O. Mills bought the statue from Mrs. Legrande Lockwood of New York for the sum of $30,000, and presented it to the State of California. On the first floor are located the offices of the Governor, Secretary of State, State Controller, Board of Equalization, law library, State Treasurer, Clerk of the Supreme Court, Attorney General, and the court room of the second district Court of Appeals, the chambers of the judges and the offices fact the library has been assigned rooms on every floor in the building and occupies about twenty per cent of the floor space of the entire capitol. On the third floor are the galleries of the Senate and Assembly chambers, and the offices of the State Board of Examiners, Superintendent of Public Instruction, Adjutant-General, Horticultural Commissioner, State Veterinarian, State Board of Health, State Commission in Lunacy, and State Engineering department. The fourth floor, with the exception of the space occupied by the library and three rooms that have been assigned to the architect's department of the State Engineer's office, has been designed for legislative committee rooms and employees' offices, which were much appreciated by the members of the last legislative session, as there were there had not been enough rooms in the capitol to provide a sufficient number of committee rooms for the accommodation of the Legislature. The view will repay one for climbing the iron stairs from the fourth story to the top of the dome. If one should get tired, he can stop at the first or second landings, one-quarter or one-half way to the top, and walk around the outside of the dome, at either of those stations, and the view will be delightful; but if he will continue on and climb the winding stairs to the very top he will obtain a magnificent panoramic view of the Sacramento Valley and its surrounding mountain ranges. On the east side of the capitol, away off to the north the snow capped peak of Mount Shasta, and to the south, Mount Diablo. The course of the Sacramento and of the American rivers can be traced for miles through the valley to where the American is seen to empty into the Sacramento in the capital city, and their course as one river can be traced for miles on its winding way towards the sea.

of the clerk, bailiff, and stenographer of the court. These offices are all handsomely decorated and richly furnished.

The main feature of the decorations in the Governor's private and business offices is the California palmyra cloud and sky effects on the ceiling and frieze of the walls, which are tinted a delicate green with a five-foot base of pure white linens decorated with gold leaf scrolls. The walls of the Governor's reception room are tinted a dark red, the decorations on the ceiling and frieze being paintings of the several rooms of the State officers; most of them, however, are to be seen on the walls of the Governor's offices.

The rooms of all of the State officers are beautifully and uniquely decorated and furnished, no two being alike. The walls of the rooms are tinted and the ceilings and friezes are decorated with the seal of the State and with flowers, such as roses, magnolias, and wild flowers, or scroll work touched up with gold leaf as the central idea; or they are painted to represent a piece of tapestry or an oriental rug. The furniture is either mahogany, black walnut or oak. The furniture and decorations, and the carpets, or hardwood floor, as the case may be, are arranged so as to produce a harmonious and pleasing effect.

In accordance with the wishes and tastes of Judges Chipman, Hunt and Burnett, the Appellate courtroom is plainly, but richly, furnished and decorated. The doors, baseboards, window-cases, and the Judges' bench are of Philippine janira, a wood having the appearance of light reddish mahogany, but richer. The attorneys' table and the chairs in the court room are mahogany; the floor is laid with a figured green Wilton carpet. The walls and ceiling are painted plainly, the walls being a delicate green and the ceiling and frieze an harmonious color scheme.

On the second floor are located the offices of the State Printer, State Janitor, State Forester, Surveyor-General, and the Senate and Assembly chambers. The Senate chamber is located in the south L and the Assembly chamber in the north L, on the east of the corridor. In accordance with custom, the Senate chamber is furnished in red and the Assembly in green, the members' desks are black walnut, the presiding officer's and clerk's desks are hand-carved mahogany. Neither one of these rooms is decorated, and the ceilings and walls of both are white with the exception of the lobbies under the galleries, which are painted green in the Assembly and blue in the Senate. A five foot linens border above the marble base is painted red in the Senate and green in the Assembly chamber. In the Senate chamber hangs a magnificent oil painting of Washington, and in the Assembly one of Lincoln. On the frieze over the Lieutenant-Governor's chair in the Senate Chamber is the following Latin motto in gold leaf: "Senators est civitatis libertatem tuetur." ("It is the duty of a Senator to guard the liberty of the commonwealth.") On the frieze over the Speaker's chair in the Assembly is the following Latin motto: "Legislatorum est justas leges condere." ("It is the duty of legislators to make just laws.") The Senate and Assembly chambers are wainscoted with California marble, and are large, roomy and well lighted. The acoustics are excellent. Ample accommodations are provided for the presiding officers, clerks, and sergeants-at-arms of the two houses in rooms adjacent to the chambers, and a large gallery in each house for the sight-seeing public. During the Sacramento terms of the Supreme Court the judges sit in bank in the Senate chamber, and hold court in departments in the Appellate court room.

The corridor of this, the second floor, is tiled with marble mosaic, in panels; in each corner and the center are representations of bunches of California poppies. The library has a large dome-shaped room off the corridor on this floor; in Wants Jury of His Peers.

"I have been engaged in the practice of law a good many years," said S. S. Urmy, police judge of Topeka, Kan., "and about the most humorous thing I ever saw in a courtroom was in Topeka."

"One day an old negro man was being tried in the justice court—that was before the office of police judge was created—and he demanded a trial by a jury of his peers. He could neither read nor write, and his lawyer insisted that the jury, to be his peers, as required by the law, must be unable to read or write, too. To avoid disputes I agreed to it, but we had a time finding twelve in Topeka who could neither read nor write. But we did find them, and the case went to trial."

"Before the jury retired I took two pieces of paper and wrote 'guilty' on one piece and 'not guilty' on the other and instructed the foreman of the jury to destroy the one he did not wish to be used and to return the other to me when the jury had reached a verdict. The jury was out only a few minutes, when it came in. The foreman handed me a piece of paper with the word 'guilty' written on it. 'Well, gentlemen, you find him guilty, do you?' I asked. 'No, sah, jedge, no, sah, we done found him not guilty,' spoke up one of the Jurymen. Then he added with disgust: 'I tote that fool nigger he was tearin' up the wrong piece of paper.'—Kansas City Star.

No Rent After Death

"I have paid rent all my life; I mean to quit when I die," declared Warren Foster, of Ogden, Utah, a well-known Socialist writer and speaker, in a letter expressing his last wish which was read after his death. "For the final disposition of my old body," says the letter, "my first wish is that it be cremated. If this is inconvenient or too expensive, then lay me away in what is known as the potter's field. But in no event, for any condition, am I to be buried in any cemetery where they buy and sell the lots or charge a rental of any kind for keeping the lots in condition. Any evasion of this request will meet with my hearty disapproval and for which there will be no forgiveness either in this life or the next."

"If my life service has not been sufficient for the community to furnish a place to rest this body, then I get through with it, then let them feed it to the more merciful and more kindly coyotes. Do not spend one cent for a lot, directly or indirectly. I want no landlord calling me up from rest to pay his rent."

The Lady Who Danced the Minuet.

The minuet was ever the aristocrat of dances. Before the lady of the eighteenth century elected to step the dainty measure she had many points to master, for to dance the minuet was to court criticism. The plunge taken, she wore a lappet on her shoulder to tell the company she proposed to make or mar her ballroom reputation. Another point of etiquette lay in the gloves. A soiled pair was good enough for the country dance, but an abominably new pair had to adorn the fair hands which graced the minuet. And so the lady of the eighteenth century on dancing bent set out with two pairs in her satchel.—London Chronical.

A Water Candlestick.

A glass of water makes a fine emergency candlestick. Weigh one end of the candle with a nail just large enough to hold the candle in the water so that the water touches its top edge, but does not touch the wick, and then light the candle. It will burn until the last vestige of wick is gone and the flame will not flicker. The melted talow that runs down but serves to hold the candle more stationary.—Blacksmith and Wheelwright.

plumbing and rewiring the building throughout for telephone, telegraph and electric lighting purposes, and furnishing it with new electric light fixtures; putting in two new elevators and dynamos; cementing the floors of the basement and of the third and fourth stories; tiling the second story corridor with mosaic; putting in iron stairways throughout, from the basement to the top of the dome; putting on a steel and concrete and asphaltum roof; repainting the interior and exterior of the building, etc., and making the building as nearly fireproof as possible. The doors, window frames, a few of the floors on the first and second stories, and the furniture in the offices, only are of wood, and the few wooden floors are laid on brick and cement.

The total cost of the building, including this work, was $2,972,925. Competent architects have stated that the building cannot be duplicated for $5,000,000. The plans of the capitol were drawn by Mr. F. M. Butler and were selected by the commission on May 19, 1860, as the best and most artistic of seven competitive plans submitted. Mr. Reuben Clark was appointed superintendent architect, which position he held until the latter part of 1865, when he had to resign on account of ill health. On January 1, 1866, Mr. G. P. Cummings was appointed superintendent architect; later Mr. A. A. Bennett succeeded Mr. Cummings, and the building was completed under his supervision.

Messrs. Sutton & Weeks were the architects of the remodeling work now completed, their plans having been selected by the Board of Capitol Commissioners from five competitive sets submitted. The board secured the services of Mr. H. A. Schutze as consulting architect, and Mr. S. W. Getchell was appointed superintendent of construction. The contracts for repairing and remodeling were let April 13, 1906; the work was completed in the middle of 1908. The earthquake and fire of April 18, 1906, which nearly

SATURDAY, March 19, 1910

If you have any news, arrival and departure of friends, society, or industrial news, churches, moving events, building operations or other news beneficial to the city, send it to the Terminal as early as possible with your signature.

NOTICE—No contract with this paper is authorized through outside parties; no agents are employed. Subscribers who may fail to receive their paper are requested to notify this office at once.

California says: "Enreka! I have found (him)"—meaning Frank McGowan, the all-around sprinter for Attorney-General.

If Hon. Charles F. Curry, candidate for Governor, could have the pleasure of meeting the immortal Lincoln in mortality in the forest splitting rails, and should offer the hero a hand, Abe Lincoln with his face radiant with friendship, would doubtless shake hands in a cordial manner and say: "Charles, you are a people's man; you run for Governor and I will split the rails for the 'worm fence'; your fences are strong enough, but I'll build another around outside to make you safe from enemies."

HON. MARTIN JOOST.

The following sentiments are in hearty accord with the Terminal's views as to the qualifications of Mr. Joost for County Tax Collector. He is very popular in Richmond:

"Martin W. Joost, Public Administrator, and one of the best known men in Contra Costa, is before the people as a candidate on the Republican ticket for the office of Tax Collector."

Mr. Joost is a resident of Vine Hill precinct, near Martinez, where he is engaged in farming. He came to Martinez as a boy and obtained his education in the public schools of this place and Alhambra Union High School. He then entered the University of California.

For the past eight years he has had the pleasure of serving as one of the trustees of the Alhambra Union High School, the same institution in which he was a student. He is president of the Vine Hill Improvement Club, and when Judge Maurice T. Dooling of San Benito county was Grand President of the Native Sons, he honored Mr. Joost by appointing him chairman of the Grand Parlor Committee on Ritualistic Work of the order. This appointment, Mr. Joost merited through the good work he had done as a former president of Mt. Diablo Parlor and as a District Deputy Grand President of the Grand Parlor, and Judge Dooling was quick to recognize the ability the young man had shown. Mr. Joost is a member of the Good Roads Club of Contra Costa and a member of the executive committee of the Highway Commission, looking for good roads. He is a member of Martinez Lodge, No. 41, F. & A. M.; Martinez Chapter No. 31, R. A. M.; Los Cerros Chapter, No. 234, O. E. S.; Naval Commandery No. 19, Knights Templar, and Islam Temple, Mystic Shriner.

Four years ago Mr. Joost went before the people as a candidate for the office of public administrator on the Republican ticket. He received the nomination at the Pinole convention and in the election defeated his opponent by something like a majority of 1412 votes. This was the largest majority given any candidate on the ticket. He has conducted the office with credit to himself and to the voters who elected him.

Mr. Joost goes before the people of Contra Costa for the office of Tax Collector as a young man of sterling integrity. He is a substantial citizen, clean, honest and in every particular qualified for the position he seeks. If the taxpayers make him their choice for this office it will receive the same painstaking care and close attention that he has devoted to the office of public administrator. Though a young man he has been signally honored with positions of trust and he holds the confidence and esteem of a multitude of friends. The splendid education he possesses, coupled with his ability as a business man and his knowledge as a taxpayer of what the people in an office of this importance, will make him a valuable official.

In submitting himself as a candidate for Tax Collector, Mr. Joost stands on record as a public official and asks the support of his party.—C. C. Standard.

POLITICAL.

Hon. Frank McGowan

candidate for the Republican nomination for Attorney-General, was born in Steilacoom, Washington, September 4, 1860; educated in the public schools of San Francisco and Humboldt Counties, also private tutors; admitted to practice law in the Supreme Court in 1883; elected to the Assembly from Humboldt County in 1886; elected to the State Senate from Humboldt and Del Norte Counties in 1888; re-elected to the Senate in 1892 and served three sessions as Chairman of the Judiciary Committee; was elected a McKinley presidential elector in 1900.

At the session of 1887, he had passed the law making the office of road overseer elective; at a subsequent session he was the author of the law making the office of State Printer elective. He is also the author of the County High School law, the law giving preference to veterans of the Civil War to public appointments; the provision of the Penal Code making it a misdemeanor to blacklist a person because he is a member of a labor union, the Pure Butter law and many other progressive measures.

His most notable victories were the defeat of the Undertakers' Trust bill and the passage of the Barry contempt law. His mutual Fire Insurance bill was defeated three times but is now the law of the State.

He voted against the "lease" of the China Basin to the Valley Road (now owned by the Santa Fe) and said: "I am unalterably opposed to the granting of public property or rights which should be held by the people, to any corporation. The history of this State demonstrates the utter folly of the people giving to corporations valuable rights and property."

He was the candidate of the "insurgents" for Lieutenant Governor in the Republican State Convention in 1898 and received 340 votes, the highest number obtained by any candidate who opposed the "machine" in that convention.

Caustic Reply to Mr. A. Mutt

Richmond, Cal., March 16, 1910

Editor Richmond Terminal, Richmond, Cal.

Dear Sir:

My attention has been called to an item published in the Daily Gazette of Martinez, which was copied from the Antioch Enterprise, under the heading of "Political Gossip" and reads as follows: "Treasurer Buttner has a 'daffy' Italian named Sylvester Spagnoli, of Bruder Sylvest, advertising himself an opponent. Easy for you Lou."

I would like to reply to the above item through the papers of Contra Costa County and hope you will see fit to publish same.

During the seven years that I have resided in this county, I am not aware of ever having come in contact with any one connected with the Enterprise, so am at a loss to account for his calling me daffy, and can assign no reason for the attempt to cast such a reflection on me simply because I am exercising my privilege as an American citizen in aspiring to a public office. The party responsible for it must be entirely devoid of any sense of honor or he would not stoop to such filthy depths to injure me.

I honestly and sincerely believe that Mr. Buttner is too much of a gentleman to approve of the use of such language to promote his candidacy.

In regard to my own character and standing during my public and private life in this and in Amador County, from the time I was brought there by my parents in 1854 and a continued residence in that place of 46 years, I think I can refer to the people and press of that section, with pride and honor.

Thanking you Mr. Editor, for the use of your valuable space,

I am, Very respectfully yours,

SYLVESTER G. SPAGNOLI.

Southern Pacific

The subway, at the main Richmond depot on Macdonald Avenue, at a cost of $55,000, a permanent mechanism, built in 1909, fixes for all time the central commercial traffic way.

The next improvement will be a modern, enlarged mission style depot for the AVENUE and a local electrified road, an extension north from Berkeley to the depot, looping the loop via West Berkeley to San Francisco, with a 20-cent fare.

Southern Pacific is building track for electric service to Macdonald Avenue depot.

Santa Fe

This road came to Richmond in 1900,
before the Standard Oil refinery; expense
for wharves at Ferry Point, tunnel, viaducts, depots, round-house, shops, library, warehouses and Terminal tracks about $1,700,000. Like the Southern Pacific, the Santa Fe's main depot is on Macdonald Avenue and it will be of the mission style when moved near First Street, and enlarged.

The Oakland & East Side Railway, the
northern terminus of the coast division, is here and will use gasoline motors to connect from San Francisco through the Key Route.
